

The Legacy Campaign

To Advance The Institute's Future

Thank you for your commitment to The Employee Rights Advocacy Institute For Law & Policy (The Institute). By generously supporting The Legacy Campaign, you are making an important investment in the future of employee rights and employee rights advocacy. Our goal is to hire a new Executive Director in 2018 under whose leadership The Institute will achieve greater sustainability, enabling the organization to expand its research, public education, and other programmatic activities that promote employee rights, protect workers' access to the courts, and shape America's discourse on workplace law and policy.

The Legacy Campaign is inspired by the vision, excellence, and integrity of Terisa E. Chaw, who is retiring as Executive Director of NELA and The Institute in July 2017. Please consider a contribution of $10 to $100 (or more) for each year of her 27 years of incomparable service. If you contribute $2,700 or more, you will be recognized as a member of The Legacy Society created specifically to honor Teri. All donors will be publicly acknowledged.

Yes! I believe in equality and justice in the American workplace and want to support The Institute's Legacy Campaign at the following level. Pledges may be paid in installments between now and June 30, 2018.
